It Doesn't Get Any Better Than This

In the heart of Historic Virginia there is a remarkable neighborhood certain to reshape the way you think about recreation, convenience and home. Brickshire is a vibrant, master-planned, golf-course community in the heartland of America's beginnings and recaptures the essence of traditional America with homes reminiscent of the colonial south. Residents enjoy a host of amenities and will create a tradition all their own with generous parcels of land to choose from and scenic views in every direction.
